ABOUT BETHESDA HOSPITAL

Bethesda Hospital is a private, not-for-profit, acute care surgical and medical hospital located in the riverside suburb of Claremont, Western Australia which has been providing care and service to the Western Australian community for over 60 years.

The hospital has an outstanding reputation in the provision of palliative care, through their 20 bed in-patient Palliative Care unit and more recently, the Palliative Ambulatory Service (North).

The hospital's vision is to be the preferred choice of doctors, staff and patients, and recognised for the provision of high quality medium acuity surgical services and palliative care.

ABOUT NOMAD TWO WORLDS

Created by, Perth born, world renowned photographer Russell James, Nomad Two Worlds started as a collaborative art project with indigenous artists. In the last decade it has evolved from James's attempt to understand the troubling cultural divide he witnessed growing up in Australia to what it is today, a powerful expression of partnership and reconciliation in action through art, music and film that has become a global example of true collaboration across deep divides.

Nomad Two Worlds has become an international sensation with support and backing from a range of international business leaders including Richard Branson and Donna Karan and other well-known artists including Hugh Jackman and the Black Eyed Peas.

James has evolved the concept into a socially responsible business committed to improving the well-being of indigenous artists and their communities. Through Nomad's extensive international network the aim of the company is to partner with talented indigenous artists and their communities to bring their work to a global audience. Creating art with a message is a powerful tool to educate, influence and generate a positive impact around sensitive and difficult community issues.
